RACHAEL BOSCH

CEO, Founder, Trainer & Senior Coach

Rachael is a trailblazer in workplace communication and leadership development, leveraging nearly two decades of experience in talent management within the legal industry. In 2017, she founded Fringe Professional Development (Fringe PD) to revolutionize how professionals navigate communication and interpersonal challenges, transforming them into catalysts for career advancement and organizational success.

Under Rachael's leadership, Fringe PD has become synonymous with practical, high-impact coaching and training programs that drive results while fostering connection and engagement. Her frameworks have empowered professionals across the legal industry to tackle complex challenges confidently, often infused with her signature approachability and humor. Additionally, Rachael partners with organizations to solve their most intricate interpersonal and leadership dilemmas, delivering tailored consulting solutions.

Rachael's credentials include certifications in brain-based coaching from the NeuroLeadership Institute, women in leadership from Cornell University, and mediating disputes from Harvard Law School's Executive Education program. She is a certified expert in DISC behavioral assessments and the EQi 2.0© emotional intelligence index.

Rachael is a recognized thought leader in the legal and professional services sectors, an invitation-only member of the prestigious Forbes Coaches Council, and a Trusted Advisor to the Professional Development Consortium. Her influence spans the globe, having coached hundreds of attorneys and executives and delivered dynamic workshops to thousands of professionals at premier conferences and organizations worldwide.

Rachael's mission is clear: to help professionals unlock their potential, build stronger relationships, and bring humanity back to the workplace—all while equipping them with actionable strategies that make a difference.
